

REPUBLICAN NOMINATIONS.

For State Treasurer, GEN. JOHN C. SMITH, Of Cook county.

For Superintendent of Public Instruction, CHARLES T. STRATTAN, Of Jefferson county.

For Congressman—14th District, JONATHAN H. ROWELL, Of McLean county.

For State Senator—2nd District, JASON ROGERS, Of Macon county.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY CONVENTION.

The Republican voters of the several townships and election districts of Macon county are requested to send delegates to a county convention, to be held at the court house in Decatur, on Saturday, September 10th, to nominate one candidate for each of the following offices: County Judge, County Clerk, County Treasurer, County Superintendent of Public Instruction, and also to nominate one candidate for representative in the legislature from the 2nd district.

The basis of representation in the county convention will be one delegate for every 250 voters, and one delegate for every township and election district, which will be divided into four equal parts.

Delegates to be elected from each township and election district, as follows:

Deputies to be elected from each township and election district, as follows:

At the county convention, the following officers will be elected: County Judge, County Clerk, County Treasurer, County Superintendent of Public Instruction, and also to nominate one candidate for representative in the legislature from the 2nd district.

Be sure to attend the primary meetings this afternoon and evening. Polls open from 3 to 5 o'clock p. m.

The authorities of Mt. Vernon, Ind., are engaged in a tough and tumble fight with the violators of the liquor law, and a bloody riot is imminent.

The Cincinnati Gazette pointedly states that "nothing could more clearly exhibit the dangerous and unstable character of the Democratic party than its platform."

On the 27th of June, 1878, for example, the Democratic party of Ohio in convention assembled demanded the abrogation of the Reconstruction act.

That was four years ago. Had that demand been complied with, where would the country be to-day, as regards the finances? Gold would be at a premium, paper money at a discount, and Government credit 50 per cent. worse than it is.

But it was not complied with, and, as a result, under Republican management, every dollar of paper money is as good as gold, and rates of interest on United States bonds, instead of 7 and 6 per cent., are 3 and 2 1/2 per cent.; while capital that moves our industries is cheaper than ever before in the history of the country.

Most figured largely in the Prohibition campaign in Iowa, being used lavishly in defraying the expenses of temperance orators and the cost of brass bands, bulls for speaking, and other features of an energetic canvass.

The Treasurer's report at the recent Prohibitionist Convention figures up the entire outlay of the campaign at $235,190, of which all but $72,453 had been previously subscribed.

The opponents of the Prohibition party appear to have been either niggardly or overconfident of success. The whole amount subscribed by them for a campaign fund did not exceed $12,000.

They now regret their close-lippedness, and express the opinion that the vote on the Prohibition amendment might have been in their favor if they had been as free in their use of money as the temperance men.

The revenue receipts of July and August indicate that the total for the year will considerably exceed that of last year, and as well the Treasury estimate for this year, unless there should occur during the next ten months an unexpected diminution of the Nation's purchasing power.

This is a great country, and it is growing greater every day. Population does not increase at the rate of 3 per cent. per annum without an increase of the wealth of the country, and of its ability to buy taxed goods, and pay the tax. This month will show the greatest amount of debt reduction in our history, as it ought to. But for the increase in appropriations the whole year would hardly fail to tell in comparison the same story. And yet taxes ought to be reduced.

Is the decade ending with the year 1890 the number of people arriving in this country from Europe who did not come as emigrants with the expectation of making their homes in the United States did not average 2,500 for each of the ten years.

Since the ending of the civil war the number of annual visitors has increased rapidly, and last year reached the respectable figures of 40,000. Hitherto the travelers that are deemed necessary to finish the education of the calf youth of Europe have been principally confined to the limits of their own continent.

It has been dwelled on the minds of our transatlantic cousins that there are objects of interest to be seen in America after all.

Tax wheat crop of 1892 being the largest ever harvested in this country, it is about time for the speculators to advance the price, as the supply and demand make no sort of difference in their calculations. Chicago Journal.

A wonderful snow and ice cavern has been discovered on Mount Temush in Thornton, N. H., the existence of which has heretofore been unknown to men living within two miles of the place.

A Negative Party.

Bloomington Leader.

The democratic party has been for twenty-two years opposed to every beneficent measure introduced into congress or enacted into law.

This fact alone is enough to condemn it in the minds of voters who are not so imbued with party worship as to refuse to stop and think connectedly for five minutes.

It is this perversity of temperament and disposition which has led to its defeat in six general elections, and will contribute to its continued defeat for all time to come unless a radically different course of conduct is adopted.

A citation of one half of their negative positions is sufficient to prove the truth of this assertion. We present them as follows:

1. President Lincoln's call for 75,000 men to defend the national capital in 1861.

2. President Lincoln's call for 300,000 troops to retake the southern forts and other public property seized by democratic rebels, and to resist the rebellion.

3. The refusal to return slaves escaping into the union lines during the war.

4. The issuance of greenbacks.

5. The arming of the negroes.

6. The emancipation proclamation.

7. The continuance of the war against the rebellion after 1864.

8. The overthrow of the southern state governments by President Johnson after Lee's surrender.

9. The constitutional amendment abolishing slavery.

10. Truismal civil rights bill.

11. The fourteenth amendment, which was intended to make the civil rights bill constitutional.

12. The overthrow of the temporary governments in the south and formation of others by the general vote of the people.

13. The payment of the public debt in coin.

14. The internal revenue system.

15. The external revenue system.

16. Any and all measures for raising money, either by taxation or by loan.

17. An inquiry as a preliminary measure to a revision of the tariff.

18. Any check to Chinese immigration for a less term than twenty years.

19. Any check to polygamy sovereignty in Utah.

20. Any reduction of taxation.

When the people review this list of democratic blunders they find that it includes nearly every proposition that has been under discussion in congress during the period named.

In many cases the very life of the nation was contingent upon the success of these measures. And yet the democratic party has been forever holding upon the skirts of the republicans when they had set their faces towards any great reform, and lustily shouting "No" in every case.

Thanks to the great people behind the republican party, this opposition has generally failed to accomplish the defeat of a great measure. But in many cases it has led to the gravest complications, and more than once has threatened to destroy our free institutions.

Like the devil in the theological system, it always is in a position to do all that is possible to impede or overthrow any and every work of grace. The people realize this, and by their ballots are continually crying, "Get thee behind us, Satan. We want neither you nor your works."

Counting Telling The Truth.

"The latest agony," says Joones, "is the way I felt this morning. My wife asked me for a XX bill, and I said, 'You know—and I cut the matter short by telling her that it could not be done, for the simple reason that I had only a matter of a dollar or so in my pocket. I knew you'd tell me that,' she said, 'and I'm true too.' And as I looked up in amazement, she added, 'I looked in your pockets last night; I've got the twenty.' Oh, boys, I felt, but what could I do?"

Governor Clayton and ex-Governor John M. Palmer both favor submitting the question of the adoption of a constitutional prohibition amendment to the voters of Illinois.

These gentlemen take the sensible, philosophical view of the case, that the people being the source and origin of all power in this government, which is of the people and for the people, it is eminently meet and proper that every great question affecting the general welfare of the people should be submitted to their voice. No honest politician or patriotic party who is governed by the principles of patriotism will object to a verdict of a majority of the people, for this is the corner stone of our republic. Springfield Post.

A diversion from Springfield, Mass., says: "The cavalry group for the Lincoln monument at Springfield, Ill., has been completed and boxed ready for shipment. It has not yet been decided when it will be sent to its destination. Work on the group was commenced about one year ago. It is about ten and a half feet high, and weighs 5,500 pounds. The monument occupies a commanding position in the cemetery, standing ninety-eight feet in height from the base. It cost $129,550, and each group $13,700, making the entire cost of the work $206,550."

GENERAL TRADE at Pittsburg continues dull, no change having taken place since last week. Merchants and manufacturers in all branches of business are awaiting a settlement of the iron strike, when they expect a revival of business, and that a good fall trade will follow. Iron dull and nominal. Pig iron in better demand and unchanged. Manufactured iron quiet with light inquiry.

EX-SENATOR POMEROY, of Kansas, it is rumored, will take part in the coming campaign in that State, and throw his influence against the reelection of Senator Plumb, whose term expires next year. This may further complicate the gubernatorial fight, as Senator Plumb is supposed to side with the Republican opponents of St. John, while Mr. Pomero is an adherent to the Governor.

The Bad Lands of Dakota.

Inter-Ocean.

About forty miles west of Dickinson the railroad enters the famous bad lands of the Little Missouri, which cover an area of perhaps 10,000 square miles, or a tract about 200 miles long by 50 miles wide.

The general elevation above the sea is about 2,500 feet, and the climate is superb. The geological formations are so eccentric, the fossils so numerous, and the features of the landscape so grotesque that the country will always possess an infinite interest to the scientist; game is so plentiful and so easily reached that the sportsman will always find it a paradise; and the grass is so nutritious and the shelter so complete that the ranchman will hold it a better range than can be found anywhere as near the market.

I will not attempt to enter into a description of the scenery. I tried it eight years ago, when I rode through here with Gen. Custer on the march to the Black Hills, and hundreds of ambitious descriptive writers have attempted it since, with only comparative success. The charm of the landscape is found in the wonderful colors, the reds and grays and greens and browns with which these enormous masses of conglomerate are bedecked; enormous mounds in all sorts of fantastic and grotesque forms, towers, and pillars, and peaks, and domes, and pyramids, and shapes that are unlike anything seen outside the limits of a nightmare's ride.

One day the land was level a high plateau underlain with beds of lignite, topped with strata of clay. The coal caught fire and baked the clay; the surface caved in when the fuel was exhausted, and the masses which were left unburned stand alone in gorgeous splendor and in fantastic forms that cannot be represented in words.

Some of the fires which produced these wonderful results are still burning, and, if the traveler will stop near the military cantonment where the railroad crosses the Little Missouri, Frank Moore, the post trader, will take good care of him and show him subterranean fires that remind one of the hereafter.

Ingersoll Tells a Story.

A story is told of Col. Ingersoll in connection with the star route trial. The editor of the Critic had been examined as a witness, and in the course of the examination the subject of some articles which had appeared in that paper a short time before came up. Judge Wylie thereupon remarked, with some warmth, that he had not read the articles referred to; that he never read the Critic under any circumstances, and that he wanted it distinctly understood that the court was not to be influenced or intimidated in any way by the newspaper attacks from hired scribblers. Col. Ingersoll, in referring to this matter afterward, said that Judge Wylie's remarks reminded him of a little incident that occurred in Peoria, Ill., some years ago. A man wrote to his neighbor: "Keep your pigs out of my garden."

The other replied: "When you write to me spell pigs with one g."

The first man in very high dudgeon replied: "I send back your note this unopened. I'll spell pigs as I please."

Laurels, if you travel, and if you take a baby with you when you travel, be sure to carry the infant with you, if you leave the cars at the station, even for an instant. The other day a woman got off the train to make some trifling inquiry at Plainville, Conn. She left her baby aboard, and to her horror the train moved off, bearing her precious burden, before the mother could get aboard. Her frantic appeals induced the ticket agent, who must have had labors of his own to telegraph to have the baby sent back from the next station. An old man set out with the baby in his arms, but when he had footed it to the station at Plainville the frantic mother was found to be at the next station. He footed it back, but the mother, unable to endure the suspense, had boarded a freight train and gone back to Plainville. The weary man then telegraphed the wretched mother that if she would still, he would bring the little child to her, but he'd be roasted alive if he was going to monkey around much longer with the child of a strange man in his arms. She got the baby back, and a good lesson in the bargain.

IRELAND.

The Latest Phase of Trouble There.

Political and Social Notes.

Kewanee, Ill., September 2.—The role of the injured innocent has been re-enacted here to-day, with Dr. J. S. Scott as the leading character. Scott was brought before Justice Wood this morning to answer to the charge of being an accessory to the robbery of the bank, as it was mentioned he would be in the dispatches of last evening. Pratt and Welch appeared against him, and showed by their evidence that Scott knew of the scheme but refused to take any active part in the proceeding, as he was fearful that his absence would be noticed from St. Louis, and his connection discovered, but that he consented to or insisted on a division of the spoils. Scott admitted his knowledge of the affair, and admitted writing a letter to Welch afterward, which was presented in court, in which he gave himself badly away. It seems that he and Pratt had previously talked over and prepared several schemes for the same purpose before Scott left Kewanee, one of them to conceal Scott and a second man under the counter in the bank, and during the absence of Pratt, to overpower the cashier, Mr. Wentworth. Another was for Scott to prepare an infernal machine, which was to be so timed as to explode during the night. Pratt was to previously get away with the money, and this innocent monster was to be left in the bank by a third party, and deposited in the vault to do its work by blowing everything up and thus hiding the robbery. Scott seemed to be deficient in nothing but nerve to carry any of these plans into effect, and his eloquence was not sufficient to convince some one else that it was their part to take all the risks. Scott was defended by the same counsel that was defeated yesterday, and, after a fair trial, was bound over in bonds of $10,000, which is hardly possible he can furnish. The prisoners are all at the hotel to-night, and will be removed to the county jail in Cambridge to-morrow morning. We expect no more excitement until more of the missing money is found or more of the robbers caught.

Washburn, Sept. 2.—There is not much prospect that President Arthur will be able to visit the west this fall, as he had expected to do. Inquiry to-day of those who should know shows that his engagements already occupy nearly all of September, and that in October he wishes to go for a few days to the White Mountains.

There is good authority to state that the white house will have a mistress next winter. President Arthur is undoubtedly engaged, and the marriage will take place early in the fall. The name of the lady is for the present a state secret. The engagement was made last spring, and the lady has this summer at different watering places been the recipient of the choicest flowers from the white house conservatory.

DUBLIN, Sept. 3.—The police strike is virtually ended. The superintendent, in an interview with the disunited, advised them that they be reinstated, and acknowledging that they committed a breach of discipline. This memorandum will be submitted to the authorities this afternoon, and there is little doubt that the men will then be reinstated, with the understanding that their grievances shall be investigated. Several street robberies were committed last evening. The wounds of several parties injured in the street melee were dressed at a hospital, but no injuries of a serious nature are reported.

DUBLIN, Sept. 3.—In George street to-night a train car, in which a special constable had taken refuge, was wrecked by the mob. The grumbler Forester has arrived at Kingstown, where disorders are apprehended. The authorities will advertise to-morrow for recruits. This action is believed to indicate that the dismissed policemen will not be reinstated. At 11 o'clock to-night the streets were much quieter.

About fourteen persons who were wounded in street fights, are in the hospital.

Five hundred constables were sworn in to-day. The mob attacked a special constable. The latter fired three shots and wounded a man dangerously. The mob thereupon attempted to lynch the constable, and handled him so roughly that he is not expected to live.

To-night the mob became very violent and was charged on by the troops. Several persons were wounded. The government officers were in charge of the troops.

The crowds have dispersed and the streets are quiet. The soldiers have been withdrawn. The memorial from the dismissed policemen, asking for reinstatement, has been signed by 195 of 234 dismissed men. A miscreant to-night placed a dirty tin box on the head of the bronze statue of King William III. The windows of the College Green telegraph station have been broken. Her Britannic majesty's gunboat Forester lies at the custom house dock not far from Sackville street.

New York, Sept. 2.—The Sun to-day has the following concerning the political situation in this State: "Not a doubt exists about Judge Folger's attitude concerning the nomination for Governor of New York. He will not only consent to run, which is the way he puts it before the public, but he is extremely anxious for the nomination. It seems to be equally well settled that Judge Folger is the candidate of Gen. Arthur, Conkling, and of the exponents of the Administration's wishes. His election as Governor would be considered a stepping-stone to a nomination in 1894. At the same time there is but little doubt that Gen. Arthur himself intends to be in the field. Contradictory and confusing as this is, it obviously describes the true state of the case. Possibly Gen. Arthur thinks his competitor would be less dangerous as Governor than he would be were he to continue in the Cabinet, using the power of his position in his own behalf.

Brownsville, Tex., Sept. 3.—The fever continues to increase in this city. For the 24 hours ending at 10 o'clock this morning there were seventy new cases and four deaths reported. Since then Henry Bollock, a prominent merchant, has died. The weather is cold and damp with some rain at intervals. The outlook is not favorable. There is great destitution in Brownsville, and the mayor is about to issue another appeal for aid. Many of the poor decline to go to the hospital. The population of Brownsville, at the beginning of the epidemic, was 5,000.

Wasmucro, Sept. 3.—The official report of the Marine hospital, for the ending Sept. 2, of the yellow fever at Brownsville, shows 482 cases and 26 deaths; heretofore reported, 631 cases and 40 deaths. The hospitals have been organized for sixty patients. No cases are known to exist north of Arroyo, Col., nor have any refugees escaped the quarantine at the outer cordon.

St. Louis, Sept. 3.—The reported purchase of the Hannibal & St. Jo road by the Gould party has not been confirmed. The road, however, has been examined by representatives of Gould, it is thought with a view of incorporating with the Washburn system. The Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, if deprived of its Hannibal & St. Jo connection will still have a Missouri river connection. Its Denver route would not be affected.

Evansville, Ind., Sept. 3.—The city of Mt. Vernon, Ind., is intensely excited over a mob which has reigned supreme in that place for several days past, but were not violent until last evening. The cause of the trouble was the action of City Marshal John Paul in attempting to close the saloons at 11 o'clock at night on Saturday evening and on Sunday. Rev. Scammon, pastor of the Methodist church, is taking an active part in the temperance work for the Republican party, and counseled Marshal Paul and the police to close the saloons. On Friday evening the deputy city marshal was set upon by a gang of roughs and terribly beaten. Yesterday Paul notified the saloons they must close on Sunday about 1 o'clock. This morning Paul's residence was fired in half a dozen places and burned to the ground.

The Shinn Case.

The final hearing of the celebrated chancery case of Shinn vs. Shinn, from Moultrie county, was heard by Judge Wilkin in chambers in Mattoon last week.

The arguments were brief and simple explanatory of the evidence and arguments which were submitted in manuscript. This is the case in which important evidence against Shinn was burned in the office of W. H. Shinn, at Sullivan, it was claimed by the accidental falling of a lamp, and for which he has been indicted. So voluminous were the papers that the Judge did not try to take them with him, and they were forwarded to Marshall by express. The Judge will render his opinion in the near future.

A Runaway Daughter.

The other day Charles Hilt, of Monticello, was in Lincoln looking for his daughter, who left her home recently. The girl is but thirteen years of age, and was seen in Lincoln last Thursday afternoon barefooted. She wore a brown calico dress and a blue check gingham sunbonnet. Conductor John Colwell put her off his train at Lincoln, as she could give no account of herself. She was last seen near the Lincoln coal shaft on the C. & A. track walking westward. Mr. Hilt does not understand this peculiar action of his daughter, and will gladly receive any information concerning her.

THE COUNTY FAIR.

Plattering Prospects for a Splendid Show—Notes of Interest.

The 25th annual exposition of the Macon County Agricultural Board commences at the Fair Grounds to-morrow morning.

To-morrow will be given up to receiving articles and animals in the various departments, and on Wednesday the exhibition of stock in the arena will commence. Two speed contests every afternoon.

A visit to the grounds this afternoon, convinced a reporter that everything was in readiness for the show. He was informed that there will be an unusually large number of entries in the various departments, such as will interest and instruct visitors, and reflect credit alike upon the exhibitors and county.

The show of horses will be very large. Many owners of roadsters, trotters and runners in the city and county have engaged stalls, and some of the animals are now on the ground.

C. E. Conklin is on the grounds with "Jennie W," a fast trotter owned by C. G. Bradshaw, of Bloomington.

George Blair has M. Blair's fine trotter in charge.

O. W. Burgess, of Carrollton, is on deck with a trotter and a rapid pacing horse.

Tom C. PORTNEY, of Stonington, Ill., will be at the Macon county fair grounds this week with a herd of imported Hereford cattle. The exhibition of this breed of stock will be a great attraction during the week, and will afford an opportunity for our farmers to see the coming breed of cattle for Illinois. Also Messrs. Stone & Luke, of Victoria, bogs and Oxford.

The grounds will present a lively appearance after to-morrow morning, and those who wish to encourage the board and make the exposition of this week and those which are to follow in the future, a success, should turn out and patronize the fair.

A Day at "Camp Cullum."
